

Refunds – Tuition and Fee Refund Policy for Credit Courses

If a student drops classes during that class's official add/drop period, the student may receive a refund of 100% of tuition and applicable fees paid to the college. This does not include any fees designated as "non-refundable."

All refunds will be issued to students via the Bighorn Card. When the card is received and activated, students can choose how college refunds are received. Refunds are processed within two (2) weeks after the official add/drop period.

NOTE: Dropping a class can affect financial aid. Be sure to contact the financial aid office before dropping any classes

Refund Policy for Non-Credit Community Education Courses

If a student drops a class or a class is cancelled for low enrollment, the student may receive a refund via check by mail to the address on file.
