Dear MCC Community,

An issue has arisen with the view.mohave.edu servers and the View is currently down for students. Some special View sessions for specific departments are also affected. The systems engineering team is working the issue and will restore service as quickly as possible. The outage only affects the View. E-mail, Schoology, and all other services are up and running normally at this time.

Should you have any questions please don't hesitate to reach out.

Thanks,
Mark
