

NUR IV (NUR222)

Course Description

This course builds on concepts learned in 122 and introduces the students to concepts of acute, multisystem, and emergent issue that will be presented to the nurse. This course has a clinical and skills/simulation laboratory experiences.

Pre-requisites: 122

Course Student Learning Outcomes:

- I. Use the nursing process, critical thinking, and clinical judgment to effectively manage a group of patients.
- II. Provide professional, compassionate, patient-centered care based on respect for individual preferences and values.
- III. Collaborate with members of the interprofessional health care team to plan evidence-based care and promote positive patient outcomes.
- IV. Utilize informatics and technology to ensure patient safety and quality care.
- V. Synthesize health and professional nursing concepts to plan successful transition to the role of the professional nurse.

Course Competencies:

1. Apply the nursing process and clinical judgment to a group of patients.
2. Implement a personal learning plan based on the analysis of the assessments from previous courses.